My my... it's MIMI!

Sue Hodge, Original UK star jets in for Opening Night

INSIDE THIS ISSUE:

MY MY IT'S MIMI ♦ P.1

SUPERSTAR CAST ♦ P.2

CHAMBER AWARDS ♦ P.3

WHAT'S ON ♦ P.4

For 10 years she delighted audiences millions of people in 72 countries across the globe as the diminutive Mimi who helped undermine the German WWII occupation of France in the original British TV series 'Allo 'Allo. And last Friday she was in the Opening Night audience of Encore's November stage production of 'Allo 'Allo, based on the TV series.

Show Director Jamie Hillard says, "I am still pinching myself that we're going to be able to benefit from Sue attending our final rehearsals and her willingness to impart her knowledge of the original show to our local cast... this is a dream come true!"

On her association with 'Allo 'Allo, Sue Hodge says, "I am really proud of my involvement in the series and delighted to share all my stories with its many fans. People always love to hear about the mistakes, out-takes and funny things that happened and it's a pleasure to re-live it all again."

Congratulations!

The judges said it was Michon's passion for helping local business to get and grow online that really stood out for them, along with the international flavour of their business, demonstrated in their digital products sold all around the world.

Michon International started in 2002 developing market first digital (information) products which it has and still does sell all over the world.. Simon and Michelle Frost now use this same information developed since 2002 to help local businesses to market online. Staying up with major developments in the online marketing world and then sharing those updates with their clients is a passion that Simon and Michelle hope to be able to share with even more local businesses thanks to this Entrepreneurial award!
