RAZOR GANG

Sweeney Todd rehearsals are well underway, and as you can see Dean Cocker (centre, as Sweeney) hasn't been let loose with the razor case...yet... much to the delight of Jarrad Enniss (front, seated), who is keen to reach his next birthday, let alone old age! So it should make for interesting rehearsals in a couple of weeks when make-up and props are added to the 'bloody' mix. Wardrobe are also anticipating a busy time, buying shirts 3 at a time right now for Dean!

AbaF Awards 2012

Heritage Isle Credit Union & Encore Theatre honoured

Encore Theatre Company's partnership with Heritage Isle Credit Union has been awarded Good Practice Recognition for their exemplary practice of partnering an arts organization with a business at the recent Tasmanian 2012 AbaF Awards (Australian Business Arts Foundation).

"For cultural branding to work, it has to work on every level - as visibility for our brand, as a way of enriching the lives of our staff and members, and as a way of bringing a new community together." says Annette Griffin, CEO Heritage Isle Credit Union (HICU). "Our partnership with Encore Theatre Company has not only done that admirably, it has set a new benchmark for other Tasmanian arts and business partnerships to aspire to."

We are extremely pleased that the judges found us worthy of such an honour," say Encore's Co-President Belinda King. "The collaboration between HICU and Encore is based on a shared commitment to enriching the cultural life of our region, mutually building our brands and a shared commitment to providing opportunities and quality engagement within the Northern Tasmanian community."
