BLOODY FUN

Forget the Murdoch newspapers and their current dramas ... the original Fleet Street hack is currently in residence at the Earl Arts Centre.

One of the more provocative and enduring characters in literary history, and certainly one of the most infamous, from 1824 until the present day Mr. Todd has captivated millions of people with his exploits. Whether or not he was real is just one of the many mysteries surrounding this evil barber who resided in London.

And his story is currently being told through Stephen Sondheim's Award-winning Broadway Musical, with a handful of performances remaining. MUST CLOSE this Saturday 24 November. Have you got your tickets yet?

SLAYING the AUDIENCE

Sweeney Todd at Earl Arts was an amazing show. Congratulations to all involved. Please make the effort to go along - you won't be disappointed.
Rosemary Armitage, MLC

Just got home from Sweeney Todd! that was incredible! Best musical I've seen in Launceston ever! Dean Cocker was great!! I think he made a very lovable horrible Sweeney!
Rosie Schriever

Sweeney Todd ... What a show! Not to be missed!
Mary Machen, The Examiner Arts Writer

We saw the production on Friday night - so good. Amazing live theatre.
Alisanne Ramsden

What an amazing show! So much talent! A show that cannot be missed! Thank you Encore!
Susie Clarke

Dean Cocker was majestic as the enraged Todd... I couldn't think of a more perfect Mrs Lovett than Belinda King... The team is to be applauded for bringing such a good-looking piece of complex theatre to Launceston.
