Go! Go! Go! Joseph!!!

Seeing is Believing in 2011

With a crash of drums and a flash of light, Encore Theatre Company's production of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat will light up the Princess Theatre stage in July 2011!

This revised version (never seen before in Tasmania!) of the spectacular Swinging Sixties show blasts into the 21st century with a colourful retelling of the biblical story of Joseph, the boy with the dreams and the dazzling designer coat of many colours, sings out to young and old alike with a score full of wall to wall hits - including Close Every Door and Any Dream Will Do.

Audiences will need to go-go-go and book tickets quickly for this high-energy, all-singing, all-dancing extravaganza when this all-new staging of Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's family classic hits town in July 2011.

But how about getting on the other side of the footlights?
Audition info kits and times are now available for this production which requires a cast of 60. All-ages and all-singing types!

URINETOWN

Keeping with the water theme but on a much a lighter note, the annual Hobart Theatre Summer School is staging a show that takes a tongue-in-cheek look at the effects of a drought. It's called Urinetown. No, really... that's the title.

URINETOWN WAS PRODUCED ON BROADWAY IN SEPTEMBER, 2001 BY THE ARACA GROUP AND DODGER THEATRICALS IN ASSOCIATION WITH THEATREDREAMS, INC. AND LAUREN MITCHELL.

AN EARNEST FABLE of love, greed and revolution set in a town plagued by drought. A simple enough plot, complete with Villain, Hero and Romance: a malevolent corporation controls the town's public amenities; the president's daughter falls in love with the leader of a pee-for-free rebellion. All of this, according to Little Sally, the shows ragamuffin philosopher, is a bad subject for a musical (and so is its title), but it's outrageous fun. WINNER OF THREE TONY AWARDS.
