It's no secret that Launceston is brimming with local theatre and performing arts groups and organisations, and this coming weekend will see many of them come together under one roof.

The aim is to showcase exactly what it is that each of them does, while at the same time encouraging more people to become involved in the arts, whether that be as a member of the audience or actually getting involved with the creation of a piece of theatre.

The day will be filled with live performances, displays, demonstrations and informative talks. Ever wondered how make-up artists can create injuries that look real but are only latex and fake blood? Or how stage props are made? What a choreographer thinks of when devising a routine? Or maybe you'd just like to know what shows are coming up this year and have a chance to win free tickets to many of them? Then Launceston's local arts community looks forward to seeing you there.

A Win-Win Situation

Friends of Encore will recall that Win Gray faced some major health challenges in mid-2010 which required extensive treatment.

To assist her and her husband Alan with the financial challenges this presented, Encore staged a sold-out benefit performance of Are You Being Served?

As a direct result, this past month they have enjoyed a well-earned break on the Murray River enjoying all that life has to offer.

Best Wishes for your ongoing good health, Win!

Encore Superstar of the Month

Each month Encore highlights the valuable efforts of a member of their dedicated team of volunteers. And let's face it, without volunteers Encore simply would not exist!

So, is there someone on the Encore team that you think should be named as an Encore Superstar?

The Committee welcomes your suggestions, and asks you email them to encoretheatre@hotmail.com
